To the one I Love,

Toni, I can't write something like "remember all the good times we've had" because those that we've had are only a fraction of those yet to come. These first seven months have been the greatest and I'm sure looking forward to the next seven, and the next, etc. If words could only describe how I feel about you, dear; but since they can't I'll just have to use three little words that best describe my feelings: "I Love you." These letters count for every month that I've known you, and for every decade that I'll love you. "I always loved you and I always will," this will be proven when we're seventy years old and have all those grand children pestering us. "I can't stop this feel'n, deep inside of me. Girl you just don't realize, what you do to me!"

I Love you with all
my heart,

Joe

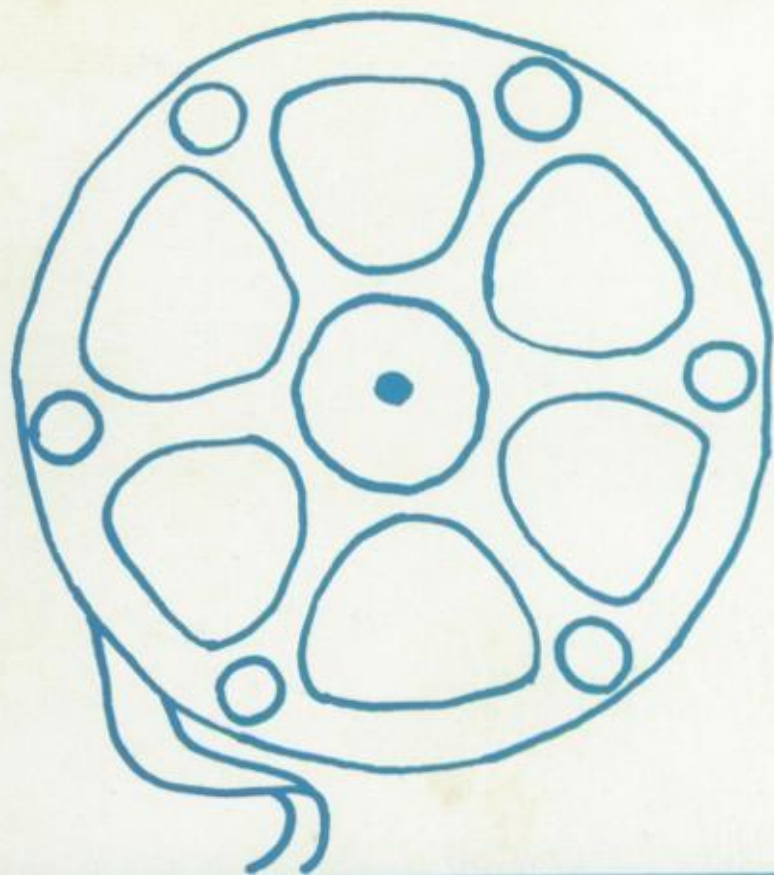

THE PENN QUILL
WILLIAM PENN HIGH SCHOOL
NEW CASTLE, DELAWARE

1969

Twelve years ago, the 1969 class of William Penn High School began its search for the ability to communicate. At first, we wanted to satisfy our own desires but as we matured, we developed a more intelligent exchange of thoughts and experiences.

The 1969 Penn Quill attempts to present a meaningful portrayal of our communication with one another.

"He gave man speech, and speech created thought, Which is the measure of the universe."

Be ready to give an answer.

Language is the picture and counterpart of thought.

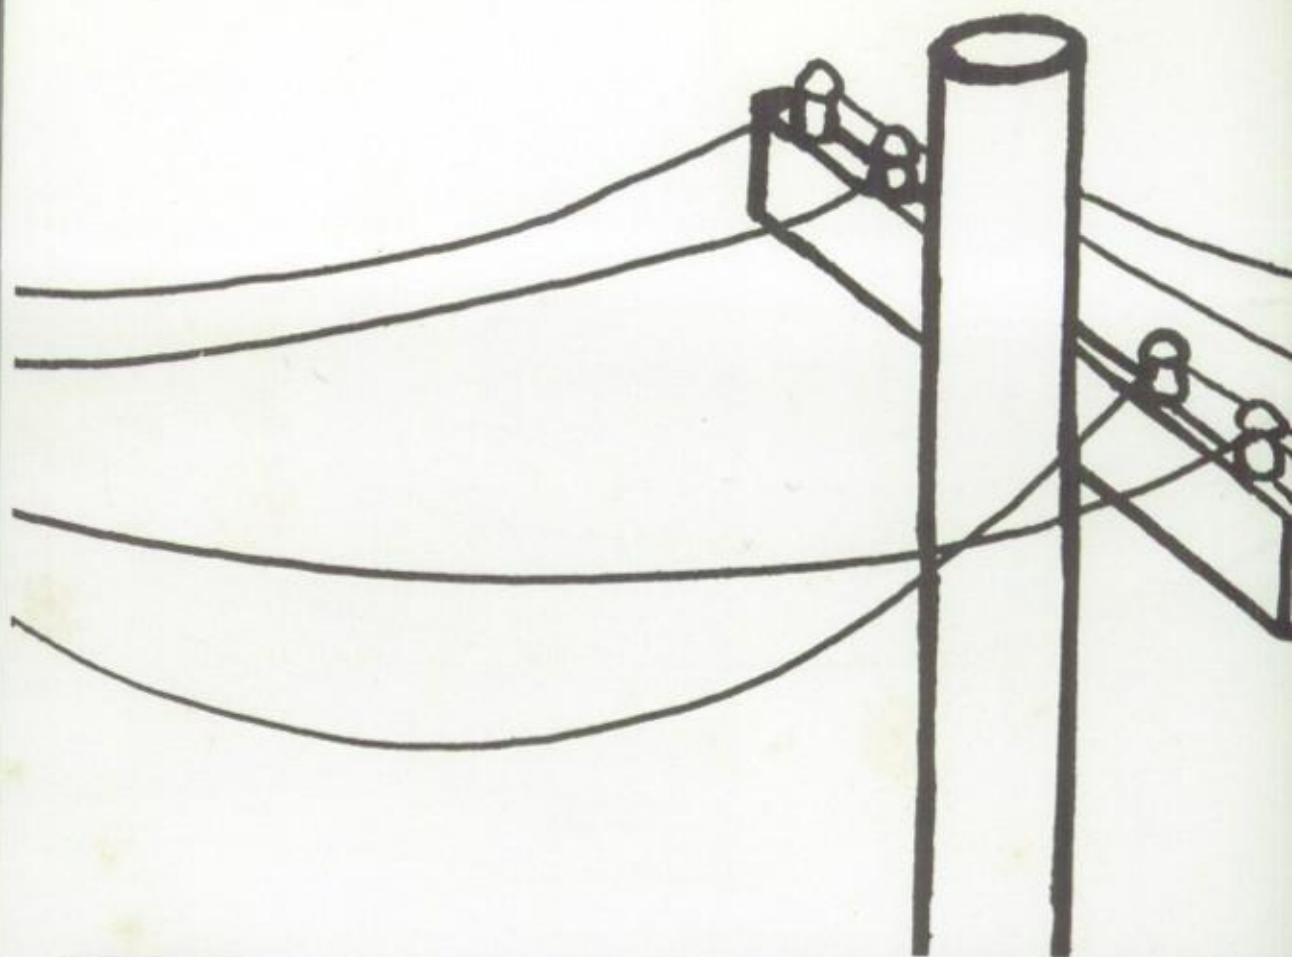

Let him that is taught in the word communicate.

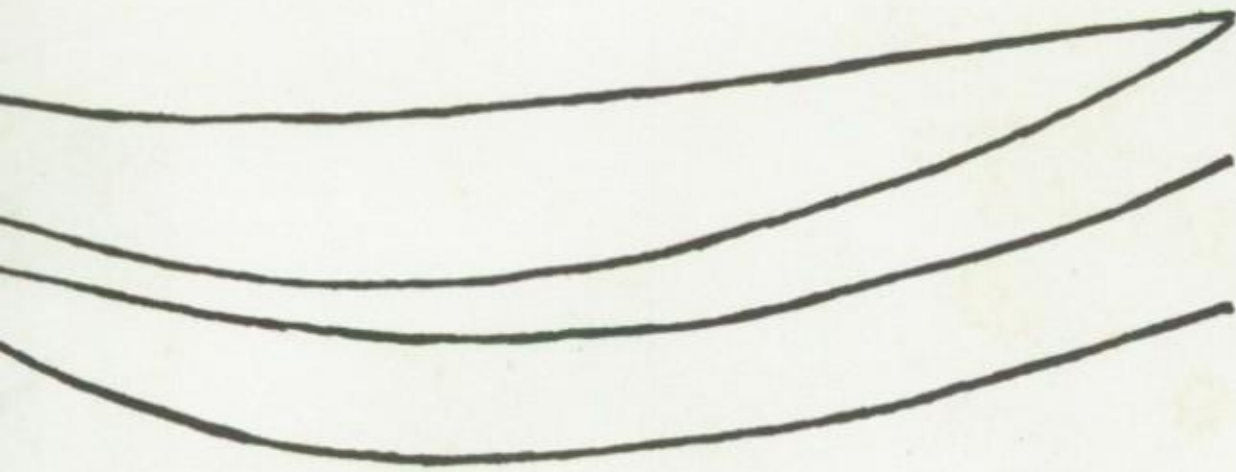

Ye know the man and his communication.

UNDERCLASSMEN

JUNIOR CLASS

The Class of 1970, under the leadership of Mr. John May and the Junior Class officers, had a successful year. The profits from the sale of fruitcakes and the proceeds from the Junior-Senior play, "The Curious Savage," added to the class treasury. The Junior Prom, held on May 19, was the highlight of the year.

Bell's second telephone: transmitter and receiver

Commercial form of Bell's telephone

THE EVOLUTION OF THE TELEPHONE

The basic principle of the Bell telephone was the conversion of continuously varying sound waves into continuously varying electric currents. Until Bell, experimenters had used circuits in which the current was made and broken, losing the smooth variation required for reproduction of speech. The receiver reconverted the electrical variations into sound. In the commercial form of Bell's instrument, the same diaphragm served for transmission and reception. This was the standard shape of the earpiece until the French telephone.

SENIOR CLASS

BUSINESS MANAGERS
Lucy Hitchcock, Diane Watson

The Class of 1969, the first to complete all three grades in the new William Penn, had a prosperous year under the leadership of our class advisors Mr. Bucher and Mr. Fox. Highlights of the year included the Senior Dinner Dance held in the Gold Ballroom of the Hotel DuPont on November 4, the Junior-Senior Play which was staged on November 15-16, and the Senior Prom held on June 2. Communication between the faculty and the student body has helped to make our years in William Penn successful ones.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PLAY

This year William Penn presented a combined Junior-Senior Play—"The Curious Savage." It was staged on November 15 and 16 and was directed by Mr. Fred Thompson. Our "Most Dramatic" seniors, Jennie Hitchens and Steve Moody, proved themselves worthy of that distinction as they supported the capable cast of juniors and seniors.

ACTIVITIES

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

OFFICERS: John Steelman, president; Sandra Zimmerman, secretary; Lynn Fenton, treasurer; Michael Pratt, vice-president (absent).

The William Penn chapter of the National Honor Society is under the leadership of Dr. Jon Huston and Mr. Walter Kearney. Membership is determined by the faculty on the basis of a student's scholarship, leadership, character, and service. The Honor Society provides services for many deserving members of our community as well as for students of William Penn. Important events of this year included the alumni tea held on December 20, in the William Penn cafeteria, and the Talent Show held on February 1, in the auditorium.

GIRLS' LEADER CORPS

Under the guidance of Miss Grace Harrison, the Girls' Leader Corps enjoyed a very productive year. This year the group focused its attention on building school spirit. Activities included the sale of pompons and football patrons, bake sales, and several Co-Recs.

V. Wagner, S. Anderson, J. Lodge, S. Blades

COUNCIL ELECTIONS

STUDENT COUNCIL

Secretary:
Carol Brosnahan

Treasurer:
Debbie Cooper

Vice-President:
Jack Melvin

President:
Larry Bolen

The Student Council of 1968-69 had a very active and productive year. Under the leadership of President Larry Bolen and faculty advisor Mr. Delvin Burns, the Council sponsored the Homecoming Dance, a Christmas canned goods drive, several informal dances, and a candy sale. Proceeds from the candy sale were used to purchase new furniture for the Home Economics Department. Throughout the entire year, the Council concentrated upon developing a better relationship between the faculty and the student body.

CLUBS

TEACHER AIDES

The Teacher Aides' Club, under the guidance of Miss Hawk and Miss Buffington, and officers F. Hammond (Sec.), R. Woodard (Vice-pres.), B. Grant (Pres.), and S. Zimmerman (Treas.), was once again a very active organization. Each member gained valuable experience by working with members of the faculty.

FIRE PATROL

The Fire Patrol is sponsored by Mr. Bleakney. This group is responsible for seeing that the building is efficiently evacuated during a fire drill or a real fire.

LIBRARY AIDES

The Library Aides' Club, sponsored by Mrs. Kay Armstrong is a group of students who are interested in library science. By working in the library these students not only learn the skills of librarianship but also provide services for the entire student body.

POLITICAL AFFAIRS CLUB

The highlight of the year for the Political Affairs Club, under the leadership of Mr. William Britton, was their trip to Washington, D.C. in March. The members of the club observed a session of the U.S. House of Representatives. This year the club also sponsored a political assembly acquainting the student body with campaign procedures.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Club, sponsored by Mr. James Forrest, is an organization which helps its members "think on their feet." The club participated in the Speech and Debate Contest at Delaware State College and the Temple University Meet in Philadelphia.

D.E.C.A.

The Distributive Education Club, sponsored by Mr. Gab-sewics, is an organization which trains its members in marketing and management. The members operate the student store and help with the window display in the upstairs corridor.

COMPUTER CLUB

The Computer Club is a newly-formed organization this year. The members of this club are mathematically oriented students who are interested in learning the advantages of computers. The sponsor of this group is Mr. Harry Kutch.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y, sponsored by Mr. Peter Perialis, is a branch of the YMCA. The emphasis of this organization is on community and world service.

TRI-HI-Y

The Tri-Hi-Y, like the Hi-Y, is in conjunction with the YMCA. This year's Senior Tri-Hi-Y, sponsored by Mr. Walter Kearney and Mr. Peter Perialis, organized a hayride and a Co-Rec Dance.

ART CLUB

The Art Club, under the leadership of Mr. Bleakney and its president, Debbie Viggins, is another new club this year. The group consists of some of William Penn's best artists.

PENN PLAYERS

This year, for the first time in the history of Ye Olde Penn Players, membership was opened to anyone who was interested in participating in this organization. Under the guidance of Mrs. Kelso, these talented actors and actresses performed in the Talent Show and Bandbo's Cabaret as well as presenting a three-act play in May and sponsoring the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

STAGE CRAFT

The Stage Craft Club, aided by Mr. Howard Smith, made many of William Penn's assemblies, concerts, and plays possible. Members of the club provided the "extras" which made these productions successful.

GIRLS' ENSEMBLE

The Jr.-Sr. Girls' Ensemble, a newly organized vocal group, is under the direction of Mr. Henry Chisholm. The girls performed at Christiana High School on April 30.

DANCE BAND

The Dance Band, directed by Bill Foraker, displayed its talents many times during the year. The members of this band participated in pep fests, the Talent Show and Bandbo's Cabaret.

FUTURE NURSES

The members of the Future Nurses' Club, under the direction of Mrs. Miriam Gray, exploded the field of nursing. Many of these members helped Mrs. Gray as health center aides.

EDITORS
Pat Willard and Beth Buehler

SPECTRUM

This year the Spectrum staff, guided by Mrs. Mary Dolson, Mrs. Julia Northrup, and Miss Susan Flynn, sponsored a literary contest among the student body. The staff received short stories and poems, many of which were edited in the magazine.

SPECTRUM STAFF

FUTURE TEACHERS

The Future Teachers Club, a newly organized club, is sponsored by Miss Skene and Mr. Deardorf. Members of this club have heard reports on the teaching profession from many of our faculty members.

PENN CRIER

The Penn Crier Staff is responsible for printing our monthly school newspaper. With the help of their advisor, Mrs. Dorothy Cline, the members of this organization learned and practiced the skills of reporting and editing a paper.

PENN QUILL

Through wind, rain, and Hong Kong flu, the staff worked on creating, organizing, and revising the 1969 Penn Quill. We have spoken to you through the many channels of communication which comprised our senior year at William Penn. Under the guidance of Mr. Louis Trinkaus we have completed a yearbook that illustrates our communications in action.

Lonie,
To my bestest bestest of friends. I don't think I could have ever lived through my pains and troubles if I didn't have you. A sister. A true sister is exactly what you are. Someone I can fight with, laugh with, cry with, worry with and eat with. Never forget all the many good times we have had together. I know I never will. Never forget when we were both in love with Steve and him in love with every one
I ever forget all the times my car broke down and we sat for hours. Never forget the time when I cut your curls off when we were little. Since one year old we have been together true friendship all the way. Oh we had our scars but we made out. Never forget the times I got drunk and you took care of me. You are the one that has really kept me straight through all my years. Always remember your first date with Joe and who fixed you up.
May happiness & success always be
